November 25, 1898.

The artist who is in search of attitudes descriptive of suffering, and posing depicting suffering, need not go far. The Christian martyrs of old. If he could only see through the walls into tens of thousands of homes all over this land, he would see women undergoing tortures in silence without complaining, before which the brief ordeals of the martyrs pale into nothingness.

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangement of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. One of the worst effects of troubles of this kind is upon the nervous system. The tortures so bravely endured completely and effectually shatter the nerves. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing cure for all weakness and disease of the feminine organism. It makes it strong and healthy. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It checks exhausting drains and tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Good medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing "just as good."

Since my last child was born, thirteen years ago, I have suffered from nervous prostration. I write Mrs. Paul Devine, of Jellico, Campbell Co., Tenn. "I consulted several doctors and took much medicine, but found no relief. I was very bad health for twelve years. Every month I was laid a week before the monthly period and a week after. I was obliged to keep in bed for four months last summer. I was just like a corpse. I lost twenty-six pounds in four months. I was coughing so much I was considered in consumption. I suffered severely from pains in my back, bearing down pains in the womb, chills and cold sweats. After taking four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery my coughing stopped, and after six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription my periods became regular and were passed without pain. Now I am healthy, more so than ever before. My neighbors are surprised to see me in such good health after having seen me so low."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is speedily cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Korea's Seven Wonders.

The seven wonders of Korea are: (1) The marvelous mineral spring of Ki-santo, one dip in which is a sovereign cure for all the ills that human flesh is heir to. (2) The double springs which, though far apart, have a strange, mysterious affinity. According to Korean belief, there is a connection underground, through which water ebbs and flows like the waters of the ocean, in such a way that only one spring is full at a time. The water possesses a wonderful sweetening power, so that whatever is cooked therein becomes good and palatable. (3) The cold wind cavern, whence comes a never ceasing wind so piercing that nothing can withstand it and so powerful that the strongest man cannot face it. (4) The uncuttable pine forest, the trees of which grow up again as fast as they are cut down. (5) The floating stone, a massive block that has no visible support, but, like Mohammed's coffin, remains suspended. (6) The warm stone, situated on the top of a hill and said to have the peculiarity of spreading warmth and heat all round it. (7) A drop of the sweat of Buddha, for 20 paces round which no flower or vegetation will grow, nor will bird- or other living things pass over it. —Locklyn Eick.

Hair Powder.

The cause of the general disease of hair powder was the high price of flour. It was thought little less than criminal that flour, which was almost beyond the reach of some of the very poor, should be used by the rich as a mere fashionable luxury of dress. Voluntary associations were formed, the members whereof bound themselves not to use hair powder. In a similar way the abolitionists bound themselves not to use any sugar whose production involved the employment of negro slaves. —Notes and Queries.

BIDS OR PROPOSALS WANTED.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT BIDS or proposals will be received by the City Council of the City of Reno, Nevada, until 3 o'clock P. M. on Saturday, November 12th, 1898, at the office of the City Clerk, Reno, for the purchase of "Reno Water Works" and the site of said water works, and for the construction of and putting in a water system for said City of Reno, in accordance with the plans and specifications adopted by said City Council, on Monday September 26th, 1898, which said plans and specifications are now on file with the Clerk of said Council, at his office in the Court House of Washoe county, at Reno, Nevada, and are hereby referred to and made a part thereof, and will be subject to public inspection at any time between the hours of 9 o'clock A. M. and 4 P. M. legal holidays excepted. Payments for the construction and putting in of said system will be made with bonds of said City of Reno, bearing interest at the rate and payable at the times and at the place and be satisfactory by said City of Reno, if, at not less than their par value, in the manner provided in said specifications. All bids or proposals shall be sealed, and so endorsed upon the envelope as to indicate the character of the contents, and addressed to F. B. Porter City Clerk, Reno, Nevada.

The person or corporation offering to provide the best permanent system of water supply for the least money or amount of said bonds, shall be deemed the lowest or best bidder; provided the Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

PUT HIS FOOT IN IT.

The Elko Argonaut makes a desperate attempt to be funny in reference to the 21,000 extra copies of the JOURNAL which was printed for gratuitous circulation at the special instance and order of Senator Stewart. Among other witty paragraphs the Argonaut has the following:

If these were the extra copies for which the JOURNAL proprietors sue Senator Stewart, or if the extra copies which form the basis of the complaint, were a potent influence in the late election, and can now explain how it happened that so many Silver party legislative candidates got kicked in the appendixes on the 8th of last November.

We perfectly agree with the Argonaut in its estimation of the quality of the matter published in the extra editions. When Mr. Kelley started on his canvassing tour of the State, and while Mr. Webster, the then Junior proprietor, was taking an outing at Pyramid Lake, Mr. Charles Norcross, Stewart's journalistic man, Friday, was daily installed as editor in chief of the JOURNAL, and for four or five weeks had exclusive control of its columns, both editorial and local. Nothing went without the consent of Senator Stewart's editor, who is alone entitled to whatever potent influence the paper exercised in knocking out "so many silver party legislative candidates, as the extra copies were edited exclusively by Norcross and were printed and sent out under his administration.

We further most cheerfully admit that the Argonaut's comparison of the matter in those same "extra copies," with the nauseating drug it mentions was an apt and happy one. It certainly was extremely nauseating to our local patrons, many of whom withdrew their subscriptions, because they didn't relish such a surfeit of Stewart, whom they had for breakfast, dinner, dessert, supper, and on going to bed at night, to such exclusion of local news as made the position of the local reporter a sinecure and furore. Even Mr. Kelley's interesting correspondence, while on his canvassing tour, was ruled out to make room for Mr. Norcross' paucity of editorial efforts laudatory of the "grand old man."

Go on, you subsidized supporters of a Senator who has no constituency, but a corporation! Every time you open your mouth you put both feet in it, and every time one of you attempts to enunciate a pencil, you caricature your master. Stewart may well exclaim: "How many millions (boughten) friends!"

GROWTH OF THE POSTAL SERVICE

The most interesting review of the postal service for some years, owing to its operation in military and naval fields, is the report of Postmaster General Chas. Emory Smith. Aside from the discussion of the regular branches of the department, it tells of the work accomplished and policies adopted in our territorial acquisitions. The Postmaster General says:

"The rapid and amazing growth of the postal business in all its branches is its most striking feature. In 1880, the gross revenue of the department was $22,513,479 and the expenditure was $30,542,304; the number of postoffices was 43,000 and the total number of postage stamps, stamped envelopes and wrappers, and postal cards issued was 1,367,597,041. In the fiscal year 1898, the gross revenue was $30,012,018 and the gross expenditure was $38,033,523; the number of postoffices was 73,000, and the total issue of postage stamps, stamped envelopes and wrappers, and postal cards was 4,614,526,000. Within this period our population has increased about 50 per cent, while the volume of postal business has multiplied nearly three fold. The lesson of improved facilities, more enlightened methods, and advancing activity is plain."

Beats Even Stewart.

In an interview at Elko, Senator Stewart says he has a receipted bill for the amount sued for, and that the JOURNAL is indebted to him instead of him owing them.—Reveille.

Even Stewart when he interviewed the Elko Independent editor hadn't the cheek to claim that he had a receipted bill for the amount sued. The Reveille editor, however, evidently considered it his duty to improve upon the lie told by the man who placed him on the ticket for Attorney General, hence his amendment. By the by, there is an item going the rounds (which the JOURNAL has refrained from publishing) about a little matter of mail contracts and subsidies, which we didn't notice any allusion to in the number of the Reveille containing the above extract.

Sam Davis says that no paper should publish the ticket and platform of any party as an advertisement which it does not support. He says he never did. Probably that is true, but we imagine it was for another reason than the scruples of conscience. The probability is that he never had a chance. Such advertising is as legitimate as the advertising of a patent medicine which the editor would decline personally to use.

The Chicago Board of Trade has adopted resolutions urging the President to call a special session of Congress for legislation for the permanent adoption of the gold standard.

The Jewish Colony.

The sufferings and misfortunes of the Jewish colonists who left comfortable homes in California to wrestle with the arid lands of Smith's Valley without first having an adequate supply of water, furnishes an illustration of energy misapplied, and will put the quietus on similar immature colonizing schemes.

The details of these unfortunate people's misery and poverty only seem to bring one back to the fundamental principles of farming in Nevada. There must be sufficient water or failure is inevitable.—Gardner's Record.

Several wealthy Jews have come to the rescue of the colony and will place it once more on a substantial footing.—Appeal.

PLAYED A WAR GAME.

HOW THE BIG MAN FLEECED THE SUBSTITUTE BROKERS.

The Tricky Six Footer Worked His Physical Defect to the Limit and Reaped a Rich Harvest While the Opportunity Lasted.

During the civil war in what was then a pretty village of Michigan and has since become a city without losing any of its beauty lived a strapping six footer who looked as hard as nails, dressed well, talked smoothly and was set up like a soldier. He had no means of support visible to the naked eye in the village which he called home, but he would make occasional trips from which he returned with plenty of money and a fund of interesting talk about some section of the north. The people thought him a mystery, but he was a pleasant one, and curiosity never went further than to ask ingenious questions that were just as ingeniously parried. After his harvest was at an end the mystery explained himself without reserve, and no one expressed serious disapproval of the way in which his wits had won him his money.

"It was a simple case of diamond cut diamond," he laughed. "I've been taking fleeces from the fellow that went out to shear. I'm not an Apollo Belvedere, Diomedes or Samson in appearance, but I pass in a crowd as a fine specimen of physical development. The truth is that I'm a white sepulcher. I was born with a defective heart and would not take three minutes of real violent exercise for all the money you could load on a freight train. I take things easy all along the line, and the engine keeps pumping up to requirements."

"When I could see the end of what property was left me, and it was not far away, I cast about for some light work to do and concluded to deal with the substitute brokers. There was no chance of meeting the required medical examinations, so I took another tack. Whenever I visited a place in my business, I'd manage incidentally to fall in with the broker. I'm better than a raw hand as a jollier, and I'd soon have some mutual friends as innocent parties in the play."

"When it came in naturally, I'd chaff the broker about his business and ask what kind of a soldier I'd make. He would either jump open mouthed at the proposition or chaff back under an impression that I would never think of going to war. In either case it would usually come to some kind of a proposition from the broker. Then the other fellows would gape me, intimate that I was a bluffer and wonder how I was to get out of the thing without a clear funk."

"Here's where my fine work came in. I'd demand a retainer, and I'd put it high enough just to make the broker think that I was trying to escape him. If he would pay me a specified sum down, I would agree to appear at the recruiting office the next day and offer my services, but I gave notice that I assumed no chances. If they would not have me, the broker must stand the loss. The idea of my being rejected always raised a laugh and only tended to confirm the broker in the belief that I was trying to escape him. When the doctor turned me down, I went into the dumps, became nervously timid, aroused the sympathy of those with whom I had become acquainted and snatched an order to the disgruntled broker to keep clear away from me."

"The best haul I made was in Pittsburgh. A coal baron there who could not well enlist and who had not been drafted wanted a representative in the army who would make a name honorable to that of the principal. He was after a big, handsome, intelligent fellow of whom he could be proud and put the whole matter into the hands of a shrewd little broker. I managed to meet him at the Monongahela House, and I worked around to the main subject in the manner I have described, but I could see that he was sharp and did not like to run any chances."

"While he went to dinner, after which we were to resume our talk, I went out and had a short conference with a huge truckman. When I again met the broker, that truckman insisted on bothering us and, after showing a proper amount of patience, I threw him half way across the office, and he went limping out, while all observers grew wide eyed in their wonder. I did not exert enough strength to throw a half grown boy five feet, but the truckman knew his business, and was paid $20 for attending to it."

"That apparently cool courage and gigantic strength removed all doubt from the mind of the broker. I was the man he wanted, and he wanted me badly. I stuck out till I got $2,000 as a 'retainer,' and then was rejected. I felt like giving the money back when the millionaire came around to condole with me and tell how disappointed he was in not having me for a substitute, but I didn't. It would have been an admission that I was not in a legitimate line of business."—Detroit Free Press.

DOORS OF VENEER.

Few Doors, Not Even the More Costly, Made of Solid Wood.

The very finest of doors are made nowadays of veneer on a body of pine. Even when made of mahogany or some other costly wood doors have to be veneered. The body of the door is made of a plain, straight grained mahogany, while the surfaces are veneers of fine wood.

In the finest doors the body is made of selected white pine, free from sap and perfectly seasoned, which is cut into narrow strips and then glued together. The outer edges of this door are faced with what is called a veneer, but which is really a strip of the fine wood half an inch or more in thickness. The inner edges of the frame, by the panels, are covered in the same manner with thick strips, in which the ornamental moldings or carvings are made and which are grooved to receive the panels.

This built up frame of white pine, with edges of the fine wood, is then veneered with the fine wood. In some lighter doors the panels may be of solid mahogany, but in the finer, larger and heavier doors the panels also are made of sheets of white pine with a veneering of the fine wood, so that the entire door is veneered.

It would be difficult, if not impossible, to procure at any cost mahogany lumber in fine and beautiful woods of sufficient size for the larger doors. The built up and veneered door of pine wood, however, has every appearance of a solid door, and made of selected veneers, it may be more beautiful than a solid door would be. It is more serviceable and remains longer perfect. Its cost is about half what a solid door would cost.—New York Sun.

WASHINGTON RELICS.

Articles of Priceless Worth Kept in the National Museum.

One of the most interesting relics in the National museum at Washington is the camp chest used by Washington throughout the Revolution. It is a compact affair about the size of a tourist's wicker chest for cooking of the present day, 3 1/2 feet long, 2 feet wide, 1 foot high, and it contains an outfit consisting of tinder box, pepper and salt boxes, bottles, knives, forks, gridiron and plates. Every bit of the outfit save one bottle, which is broken at the shoulder, looks strong enough to stand another campaign.

Near by are the tents used by Washington—three in number. One is a sleeping tent, 25 feet long, with walls 6 feet high and a roof with a 6 foot pitch. It is made of linen. The other two are marquee tents of smaller size, one with walls, the other a shelter tent open on the sides. That the tenting material of Revolutionary days was good stuff is proved by the excellent condition of these tents, which sheltered the great commander through all his severe campaigns.

Here also is Washington's uniform, worn by him when he gave up his commission as commander in chief of the army, at Annapolis in 1783. It consists of a big shabbily coat of blue broadcloth, lined and trimmed with soft buckskin and ornamented with broad, flat brass buttons; buckskin waistcoat and breeches. The size of the garments (which are in a state of excellent preservation) testify to the big stature of the Father of His Country and suggest that he had an eye to a fine appearance in his dress.—Washington Post.

NOTICE TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

KNOW YE THAT J. V. PERS ON THIS 6th day of December, 1898, under the Statute of this State, in such case made and provided, presented his written application to the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, held in and for Washoe County to be relieved of the forfeiture of his present office of Public Administrator and ex-officio Coroner of Washoe County, and of the same offices to which he was elected at the general election held on the 2d day of November, 1896, and of all pains and penalties under what is generally known as the Purification Election law of this State, approved March 15, 1893, on account of his failure to file the required statement to said office and the affidavit required by section 3 of said law, which failure is shown by his recent inactivity and excusable neglect, and not by reason of any want of good faith on the part of said applicant.
Now, therefore, said application will be heard by said Court on Saturday, December 10, 1898, at the courtroom of said Court at 10 o'clock A. M. of said day, on proof of the notice of such hearing required by said Court. Done by order of the Court, this 5th day of December, 1898.

"STEWART IN HARNESS."

Unprecedented Enterprise of Two Nevada Papers.

The Associated Press ought to be prosecuted for withholding or tampering with the Congressional proceedings at Washington. It is a burning shame that Stewart's name was not mentioned in yesterday's report, while the Carson Appeal received the following special by the grapevine route:

"WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8, 1898.
"To-day Senator Stewart of Nevada introduced two bills, one granting two million acres of land to Nevada for irrigation purposes, the other reserving land in township 30, two miles above Lovelock, suitable for reservoir storage, providing for necessary dikes and embankments to store water of Humboldt river, and appropriating one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for this purpose. Government land subject for irrigation from such reservoir shall be sold to highest bidder after reservoir is constructed to reimburse Government."

The JOURNAL, determined not to be outdone in enterprise by a little old jerkwater sheet like the Appeal, immediately made arrangements with the G. V. Association for a report of all Congressional news relating especially to the State of Nevada. We stop the press to give the first installment which was received at 3:45 this morning:

"WASHINGTON, Dec. 10, 1898.
"To-day Senator Stewart of California introduced 46 bills, all in the interest of the State of Nevada. Among the most notable was one granting four hundred millions of acres of land to Nevada for political and sanitary purposes. As there are but a few thousand acres of unentered land in Nevada, the remaining acreage is to be reserved from lands in the Philippines just outside of the city limits of Manila. Another is a bill for an appropriation of $40,000,000 to increase the water supply of the Humboldt river by artesian wells in the Humboldt Valley which are to contribute their flow to the natural water volume of the meandering stream.
"He introduced a bill for a $4,000,000 appropriation for the construction of United States public buildings at Reno, Virginia, Franktown, Verdi, Winnemucca, Rye Patch, Tuscarora, Glendale and Pizan Switch. The Senator also arranged for the payment of the Nevada war claims within forty days after the next Senatorial election in that State, and also for the payment of the Nevada State Band's judgment, upon the condition that the members remain to hear him when they spell at his next meeting. The Senator announced in executive session that he would be re-elected by more than a unanimous vote of both houses."

Schools in Eastern Nevada.
Orvis Ring, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, says that the public schools in eastern Nevada are becoming stronger in educational facilities and numbers. In Elko county there are about forty school districts, the principal ones being situated at Elko, Tuscarora, Wells and Gullin. The Elko county high school is in a flourishing condition and is an exceedingly well equipped school for one so young. It was built in 1894 and is supported by a county tax. At present the school contains about forty students under the supervision of A. E. Kaye, the principal. The standard maintained is invariably high and thus enables the graduates to enter the State University well prepared for the work before them.

Eureka county contains but fourteen school districts, yet it supports a creditable high school, which is connected with the public school at Eureka as an upper grade. At one time this school was the most extensive in the State, requiring thirteen years to cover the period elapsing from the time the child entered the primary grade until he receives his high school diploma. Only Normal School graduates are employed in Eureka schools; consequently they are well conducted although the rule excludes some desirable teachers.

A Lawyer Caught Out.
Last fall Mr. John Sparks slaughtered one of his tame elks, a small herd of which he has at his ranch up the valley. He shipped the carcass as a present to J. W. Dorsey, a former Elko attorney but now practicing his profession in San Francisco. The toothsome meat was received all right by Mr. Dorsey, who took it to the butcher's shop to have the animal dressed and cut up for distribution among his friends. It happened to be the close season for that species of game in California, and any person found in possession of it is amenable to fine and imprisonment, whether it was killed in that State or elsewhere. At all events Mr. Dorsey was arrested, pleaded guilty and paid the usual fine. But that was not the worst of it. The officers of this law refused to deliver the meat to Mr. Dorsey and the entire carcass was sent out to the Alms House, where, it is to be hoped, the unfortunate inmates enjoyed a treat even though it was at the expense of Mr. Sparks and Mr. Dorsey.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in the most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement, I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottle of this Great Discovery at S. J.
